CHRISTIAN CHURCH.--Divine Service will be performed at this Church, to-day, at 11 o'clock, A. M., by Elder Dr. W. H. WHARTON.

THE STEAMER A. L. DAVIS .- This is the name of a new light draught steamer, only drawing 9 inches water, light, and recently finished at our city wharf by the enterprising owners, Capts. Strong and Tax-LOR, and W. B. WYATT, Engineer; all of whom are experienced officers, and have long been identified ; amongst us as river men. This craft we learn is intended solely for the Cun berland river trade, and is one of the first that is out and out Cumberland river built. The hull is 150 feet in length, 26 feet | Knoxville road. hearr-with a four foot open hold, and combines strongth with lightness, and certainly reflects much credit on the judgment of its builder, Mr. ELISHA STRILE. The entire machinery was constructed by our enterprising young townsmen, Messrs. Ettas & MOORE, and is as follows: Two boilers 38 inches diameter, 22 feet long, of the best Tennessee iron; two 13 inch diameter cylinders, 31 feet stroke; Cabin under the superintendance of Capt. STRONG, by our city carpenters; painting by W. M. HARGRAVE; Furnishing by city upholsters. The cabin is not very extensive, vet sufficiently large to accommodate forty passengers with borths, and as many more on the floor. The hull, at the present stage of water, 18 inches, will be able to carry over the man Capt. A. L. Davis, who is so proverbially known for his enterprise and punctuality; if so, we insure the owners a rich harvest if they will endeathe namesake.

PROMICIONATION.? Mrssas Eprrous: Will you please to indulge an injured women in the permission to inquire through your columns, why the daily True Whig keeps so singular a silence to my grand charge of pipe-laying "by sending their journeyman, H. R. HILDRETH, to represent himself at my hotel as Mr. Brows," the proprietor of the "Whig?" Is their cause so hope less as not even to show a defence? MADAM J. ADOLPH.
